

JOB VACANCY

Hexad Company Limited is committed to achieve workforce diversity in terms of skills, gender, innovation and culture. Individuals with competent based skills, profession, person with cultures and religion diversifications are encouraged to work with Hexad. Hexad does not tolerant sexual harassment and discrimination.

Job Title: Geophysics (Internship) Based

Duration: 6 Months

Based at: Hexad Site, Lwamgasa (Geita)

Position reports to: Production Engineer.

Job Purpose

- Geophysics apply their knowledge of earth sciences and expertise in physical measurements of the earth's properties to enhance geological interpretations. Responsibilities vary with level of expertise, but in general they include planning, acquisition, processing, and interpretation of seismic and other geophysical data.

JOB SPECIFICATION

- Geophysicist is be responsible for controlling the quality of the seismic data collected and interpreting it to create maps of the build-up of hydrocarbons. Other tasks will include examining the physical properties of rocks and gathering and evaluating well data to build reservoir models, pre plan projects, to design data acquisition plans and to decide on suitable seismic measurements.

ELIGIBILITY

- Bachelor degree in Geophysics or related course from recognized university with 3.6/5.0 GPA minimum
- Must be a Tanzanian Citizen
- Must be unemployed Tanzania graduate aged between 20-26 years. Send your cover letter, CVs and academic certification in this email address clementmcdonalds@gmail.com before 30th November, 2023.